

9.7.2014

Baby,

Thanks for last night.

And, yes, I do still love you very much and pray we can end all of this.

Hope you will at least call me today. Staying home to watch football and do laundry.

Love Jan

From
John Ford

My Baby, I found Heaven

When I found you

And this Heaven

Is something I don't want to lose

I only know that

If you ever said good-bye

I couldn't stand the pain

This eyes would cry like the rain

And the sun would have nowhere to shine

And the stars would fall from the skies

Honey please don't take away my Heaven

Cause the world would stop turning I know

And I'd lose my whole world if you go

Honey please don't take away my Heaven

There's a light in your eyes tonight
You know I'd know that look anywhere
You've made plans

And I'm one lucky man

Before we share our hearts and soul

there's just something I want you to know
When we make love it's more than just our little time
we share our hearts, our souls and our minds
When we make love.

Watching you make your little moves

I can tell it's going to be a long night.

All day long I sat by the phone waiting for the call I know will come

From John Ford

John Ford

There's a light in your eyes tonight

There's a light in your eyes tonight
You know I'd know that look anywhere.

Before we share our hearts and souls

there's just something I want you to know

When we make love it's more than just our little time

we share our hearts, our souls and our minds

When we make love

watched you make your little moves

~~I saw that light in your eyes~~

All day long I sat by the phone

waiting for the call I knew would come